SAFETY INFORMATION

About Photosensitive Seizures

A very small percentage of people may experience a seizure when exposed to certain visual images, including flashing lights or patterns that may appear in video games. Even people who have no history of seizures or epilepsy may have an undiagnosed condition that can cause these “photosensitive epileptic seizures” while watching video games.

These seizures may have a variety of symptoms, including lightheadedness, altered vision, eye or face twitching, jerking or shaking of arms or legs, disorientation, confusion, or momentary loss of awareness. Seizures may also cause loss of consciousness or convulsions that can lead to injury from falling down or striking nearby objects.

Immediately stop playing and consult a doctor if you experience any of these symptoms. Parents should watch for or ask their children about the above symptoms—children and teenagers are more likely than adults to experience these seizures.

The risk of photosensitive epileptic seizures may be reduced by sitting farther from the television screen, using a smaller television screen, playing in a well-lit room, and not playing when you are drowsy or fatigued.

If you or any of your relatives have a history of seizures or epilepsy, consult a doctor before playing.

Other Important Health and Safety Information The Xbox Instruction Manual contains important health and safety information that you should read and understand before using this software.

Avoid Damage to Your Television

Do not use with certain televisions. Some televisions, especially front- or rear-projection types, can be damaged if any video games, including Xbox games, are played on them. Static images presented during the normal course of gameplay may “burn in” to the screen, causing a permanent shadow of the static image to appear at all times, even when video games are not being played. Similar damage may occur from static images created when placing a video game on hold or pause. Consult your television owner’s manual to determine if video games can be played safely on your set. If you are unable to find this information in the owner’s manual, contact your television dealer or the manufacturer to determine if video games can be played safely on your set.

REPORT ON THE ATROCITY AT HALO

To the Prophet of Truth

Most high and honored Prophet: It is with greatest shame that I lay myself before the judgment of the Council. I expect and will accept no mercy. My failure in this matter is absolute; I embrace my responsibility and my punishment.

The disgrace and blasphemy at Halo was an abomination caused by my incompetence and failure of judgment. Although the tales and rumors of the Demon have basis in fact, much of this talk is Unggoy superstition and exaggeration. Certainly the Demon, a Human, activated a catastrophic engine-failure sequence on the crashed Human vessel, but it was allowed to do so because of failures in security and tactics for which I bear full responsibility.

I have no good news to relay, but the Human action was suicidal, either by accident or design. I believe none escaped the catastrophe.

As ever, Jiralhanae accounts of the conflict are unreliable and their accounts of this Human's abilities and actions are absurd. No Human is capable of the things they gossip and chatter about. I suspect panic and excuse, as well as confusion caused by the spread of the parasite.

The Human in question is certainly unusual, although not the creature it has been described as. It stands taller than most, is faster and more aggressive, but still irrevocably a Human animal, worthy of neither fear nor respect. It is merely an exception that proves the rule. As always, Humans remain beneath our contempt. Their failure at Reach compounds their defeat. We sense that their defenses are failing rapidly. I have gathered information on the Human's armor, abilities, and weapons, which follows this report.

Perhaps more worrisome is the discovery and subsequent conflict with the parasite on Halo. This monstrosity festered, rotted, and waited on the Holy World, and although we cannot be sure, the Humans may have released it from its shackles. I do not presume to know the unknowable, but I suspect that the Forerunners meant this filth to stay imprisoned forever. The sacred grace of Halo was polluted before it was destroyed.

I await my punishment with faith and honor.

—Supreme Commander, Fleet of Particular Justice

UPDATED INTELLIGENCE ON HUMAN WEAPONS AND TACTICS

Most high and honored Council, according to records gleaned from the conflict and subsequent victory at Reach and the disaster at Halo, the Demon, this exceptional Human, is a class of warrior known as a "Spartan." These Spartans were most numerous on Reach and more difficult to eradicate than the other Human troops. It appears that the Demon escaped from Reach.

These Spartans may be machine-enhanced. They are certainly well-versed in armed and unarmed combat, and in many ways they fight more like Sangheili than Unggoy. And like the Sangheili, they are able to inspire discipline and tenacity among their weaker ranks.

Their primitive weapons and vehicles rely almost exclusively on projectiles and explosive chemicals. As ancient as their technology seems, it has occasionally caught our troops off guard. Casualties caused by unprepared infantry are unacceptable. They should be better educated in Human methods, tactics and technology. A comparison of these devices and our current weaponry follows.

OUR NUMBERS DEPLOYED ON THE HUMAN WORLD

Council: The Human home world is a primitive mix of cluttered angular dwellings, open bodies of water, and some purposeless agricultural areas. It has little logic in layout or structure, and its warrens of slum and rock will make for challenging battles. Our mission is such that we cannot simply level these structures, and so we shall deploy a wide range of general fighters and specialists to ensure our task is completed with speed, purpose, and accuracy.

Unggoy

Stout and numerous, the Unggoy long have been the lifeblood of our Covenant's infantry. They will obey any order in the service of their duty and fight well with plasma pistol, turret, or in vehicles. Unggoy will as ever fight well with their comrades the Kig-yar, and obey the directives of the Sangheili.

Kig-yar

Slight of build as they are, the Kig-yar remain a valuable fighting force. Excellent shots, and with their shields nearly invulnerable, the Kig-yar offer a great tactical advantage in ground combat. Faster and taller than the Unggoy, they complement each other very well.

Lekgolo

The Lekgolo pairs are simply too large to be deployed in many circumstances on this cramped sewer of a world, and so they will be given specialized missions. We will station them at defensive points as we gain territory, and bring them in for heavy destruction. Their fuel rod guns and sheer ability to inspire fear will be invaluable.

Sangheili

Our iron heart—the ideal fighter for this mission. My brothers. The Sangheili will be deployed across every rank, from simple soldier to Elite Commander. They thirst for Human blood and vengeance for the atrocity at Halo, and their loyalty is unquestioned. Excellent infantrymen and superb commanders, the Sangheili are proficient with most weapons and vehicle systems.

Jiralhanae

The newest ally to join the embrace of our flock is a powerful fighter indeed. The Jiralhanae are endowed with prodigious physical strength, and their simian origin makes them ideal for missions in any environment. We shall deploy them against Humans in the same instances as the Sangheili, but we may also give the Jiralhanae some increased security responsibilities in this conflict.

Yanme'e

Suited for flight and fighting in this planet's gravity, the Yanme'e will be a valuable inclusion to our forces. The Humans are unused to fighting aerial infantry. The Yanme'e will use their ability to fly to gain ground and provide accurate cover fire for other troops.

Prophets

Our guiding light and the directors of our purpose. They are father to the children of our Covenant, and they will lead us to truth and to perfection. The Prophets of Truth, Mercy, and Regret will navigate us through the task that awaits us.

DUAL WIELDING

THUMBSTICKS

SANGHEILI BATTLE SUIT

Sangheili armor features an upgraded HUD system tied directly to armor sensors and integrated fully with the suit.

The HUD is capable of cross-referencing temperature readings to track charge-depletion status on all Covenant weapons. It also tracks the ammunition status of all Human weapons should they be used.

Weapon Indicators

Motion Tracker

Indicates relative whereabouts of allies and hostile combatants. Motion tracker is tuned to detect aggressive or obvious motion and cannot show location of stationary or slow-moving hostiles.

Shield Indicator

A bar above motion tracker. Solid purple indicates optimal state.

BATTLE TACTICS

Getting Started

The player profile defines your control settings, your character's appearance, voice options, and some Xbox Live settings. You can alter your settings at any time by choosing Settings from the Main Menu, and then selecting Player Profile.

To create a new player profile, press START from the Start screen, then select Create New Profile. Type a profile name using the virtual keyboard, and then press START again.

Main Menu

From the Main Menu, select Campaign to begin a solo or cooperative game. Select Xbox Live, Split Screen, or System Link to start a multiplayer game. Select Settings to customize player profiles or modify game types.

Campaign

You can play a campaign as a single player in a solo campaign or with a friend in a cooperative campaign. You play a cooperative campaign in split screen mode. A campaign is associated with a player profile. To start a new campaign, you need to create a new player profile.

To start a solo campaign, select Campaign from the Main Menu. Select New Campaign, select a difficulty, and then press A.

To start a co-op campaign, select Campaign from the Main Menu, and then select Cooperative. Both players need to select a player profile and then press A.

Saving Progress and Loading a Level

Your progress in a campaign is saved automatically at specific checkpoints throughout a game level. To continue a campaign from your last saved checkpoint, select Campaign from the Main Menu, and then select Resume. To load a specific level, select Campaign, and then select Select Level. You can select only levels you've already conquered.

NOBLE TOOLS OF CONQUEST

Most Supreme Council: The Human environment is unique and as such, provides unique challenges to our infantry. We shall therefore deploy specialized weapon sets to cope with this mix of open-field and close-quarters fighting. The following weapons will be supplied to ground-based troops. Some of these weapons you can dual-wield, enabling you to use them simultaneously. To dual-wield, press and hold Y to pick the secondary weapon, use the Left and Right triggers to fire.

Core Power Output:
100-150kV : 2-3 dA

Plasma Pistol (dual wield)

Standard-issue firearm of lesser Unggoy is still a flexible and useful tool, wielded correctly. Charged bursts of plasma decimate shielding, should the user hold trigger closed. Shorter bursts can be fired rapidly and repeatedly. Charge depletes in difficult battlefield situations. Once energy core has completely discharged, weapon is useless.

Rate of Fire:
420-600 rounds per minute.

Plasma Rifle (dual wield)

Favored by Sangheili but available throughout military, Plasma Rifle makes excellent mid-range weapon. Powerful, light, and deadly in capable hands. Fires super-heated plasma bolts in automatic or semi-automatic fashion. Limited power supply is only weakness. Once energy core has completely discharged, weapon is useless.

Ammo Capacity:
30 rounds per magazine.

Needler (dual wield)

Although of limited use against artillery or vehicles, a dangerous weapon. Inflicts enormous pain on targets as barbs erupt explosively in flesh. Concentrated grouping of quills kills most Humans quickly. Slight ricochet effect means it should be wielded carefully.

Covenant Carbine

Using very high-speed radioactive ammunition, highly flexible and accurate rifle. Best used at medium distances against Human opponents, features a digital visual enhancer, doubling magnification of chosen targets.

Ammo Capacity:
36 rounds per magazine.

Particle Beam Rifle

Excellent choice for long-distance execution of targets. Charged-particle weapon fires lethal beam, shot to head guarantees success against shielded or unshielded target. Rifle has digital visual enhancer, with two levels of magnification for mid- to long-distance targeting.

Output Capacity:
18 bursts per charge.

Brute Shot

Jiralhanae grenade launcher fires powerful ballistic explosives. Can fire these explosives in rapid succession—a string of four before reload required. Very short fuse allows skilled marksmen to deflect grenades off of hard surfaces to reach covered targets.

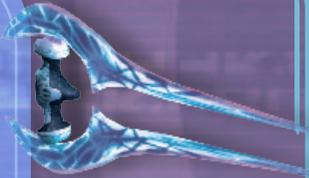

Ammo Capacity:
4 rounds per belt.

PRIMITIVE IMPLEMENTS OF WAR

Length: 3 feet.

Covenant Energy Sword

Noble and ancient weapon, wielded by strongest of Sangheili, requires great skill and bravery to use, and inspires fear in those who face its elegant plasma blade. Energy sword not to be used by those of ignoble rank, under any circumstances. Press B for regular melee attack, and pull Right trigger for basic undercut attack. Or wait until reticle turns red to lock on an enemy, then pull Right trigger to perform a fatal lunge attack.

Ammo Capacity:
5 rounds per clip.

Fuel Rod Gun

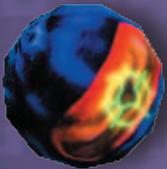

Fuel Rod Gun is a useful infantry tool, designed to be used against smaller vehicles and personnel. Radioactive ammunition renders it particularly effective against Human ground forces. Optical zoom facility makes it accurate as well as powerful.

Radius: 30 feet.

Plasma Grenade

Most commonly used thrown explosive in our arsenal is flexible and powerful plasma device. Intelligent-adherence quality rewards accurate thrower, and has proven itself especially useful when attempting to halt or destroy Human vehicles. Adheres firmly to Human epidermal layer. Slow fuse allows thrower three seconds to retreat from blast radius.

Great Council: Human weapons are primitive, mostly chemical and projectile in nature, but some are effective nonetheless. Our reliance on and expectation of energy-based weapons means that we may need to adjust our strategy when faced with the Human devices. However, the simplistic nature of Human weapons makes them open to analysis. Covenant weapons are always superior, but when faced with a choice of wielding no weapon or a Human weapon, our forces should acquire the nearest weapon at hand—even if Human. A basic understanding of how these primitive weapons work is important so that we may use these weapons to our advantage.

M6C Pistol (dual wield)

Almost laughably weak in most circumstances; however, Human pistol fires metallic projectiles which can be dangerous when fired very accurately. Often used as last resort by desperate Humans and one of their least threatening devices. Features no visual targeting enhancement and can be fired just 12 times before physical reload is required.

Ammo Capacity:
12 rounds per magazine.

BR55 Rifle

Accurate, reasonably powerful, and carries large number of small explosive-fired metallic projectiles. Fires burst of 3 projectiles. Battle Rifle has optical visual enhancement, doubling the magnification of chosen targets.

Ammo Capacity:
36 rounds per magazine.

M7/Caseless Sub Machine Gun (SMG) (dual wield)

Reliance on explosive chemical percussion makes its performance erratic and apparently difficult to control. Kinetic energy causes inaccurate firing. But sheer number of projectiles makes it a more difficult obstacle to infantry.

Ammo Capacity:
60 rounds per magazine.

Ammo Capacity:
4 rounds per magazine.

S2 AM Sniper Rifle

Using gas pressure as mode of percussive acceleration, very high-powered weapon fires aerodynamically assisted projectiles made of very hard metal. Long barrel ensures true and accurate aim, penetrates all flesh. Direct strike to head kills energy-shielded infantry. Has 2 levels of digital visual enhancer, to increase the magnification of chosen targets.

Ammo Capacity:
2 102mm shaped-charged rockets.

M19 SSM Rocket Launcher

Surprisingly effective and somewhat admired, fires missiles containing chemical explosive that can track moving vehicles. Effective even against Lekgolo. Launcher has digital visual enhancer, doubling magnification of chosen targets. Reticle indicator denotes when launcher has locked on target.

Ammo Capacity:
12 8-gauge shotgun shells.

M90 Shotgun

Long-barreled weapon packs many tiny projectiles into each shot fired. Sprays cone pattern and while useless at any reasonable distance, is quite powerful at close range. In warrens of dwellings where we must fight, must be taken seriously. Humans must manually pump to refresh firing chamber.

M9 HE-DP Fragmentation Grenade

Chemical explosive contained within hard casing. Operates on impact-activated timed fuse. When thrown by Human, fuse activates as it strikes object. However, grenade has no adherence ability and bounces unpredictably. Explosive radius and ability to inflict harm not to be underestimated.

Radius: 15-30 feet.

M41 LAAG (vehicle mounted)

The most commonly encountered weapon on the Human "Warthog" vehicle, this projectile firing weapon uses chemical percussion to fire projectiles at a high rate of speed and frequency. Simple but effective technology.

Ammo Capacity:
Unlimited.

M68 Gauss Cannon (vehicle mounted)

This curious Human weapon uses familiar magnetic-coil technology, but to accelerate primitive, though effective, projectiles at incredibly high speeds. Very effective and destructive against energy shielding. Not as effective against multiple ground forces.

Ammo Capacity:
Unlimited.

COVENANT VEHICLE DEPLOYMENT

We have deployed a large number of low-altitude atmospheric and ground vehicles to expedite careful incursion into Human territory. These are best suited to this planet's gravity and atmosphere. Mission requires additional troop transports since we are forced to deploy massive numbers of localized infantry.

Ghost

Propulsion: Boosted Gravity Propulsion Drive

Armament: Twin Plasma Cannons (100-250 kW range)

Standard individual battle/transport vehicle, has proven itself in thousands of sorties and functions well in this environment. Boost facility, which temporarily diverts power from twin plasma cannons and steering modifiers, achieves very high speeds on this planet. Pull Left trigger to boost speed.

Banshee

CREW: 1

Propulsion: Boosted Gravity Propulsion Drive

Armament: Twin Plasma Cannons

Secondary Weapon System: Fuel Rod Cannon

Although slow, Banshee is highly maneuverable in thick atmosphere of planet. Ability to loop and barrel-roll makes it a challenging and slippery target for Human ground emplacements. Twin plasma cannons and single fuel rod cannon make it a formidable vehicle for strafing, bombing, and reconnaissance.

Wraith

CREW: 1

Propulsion: Boosted Gravity Propulsion Drive

Armament: Plasma Mortar and 2 Auto-firing Plasma Cannons

Heavily armed with ballistic plasma cannon, Wraith makes an excellent first-strike ground assault vehicle, as useful against structures and vehicles as it is against individual infantry. Thanks to considerable mass, Wraith is slow, and a boost function assists overall maneuverability.

Spectre

CREW: 1 + 1 gunner (+ 2 riders)

Propulsion: Boosted Gravity Propulsion Drive

Armament: Plasma Cannon

Multi-troop armored transport is small and maneuverable to travel with ease in Human dwelling areas. Can carry pilot and gunner; 2 passengers may ride on the flanks. However, relatively low speed makes it vulnerable to attack. Rear-mounted plasma cannon provides ample discouragement to most Humans, but best employed in end-of-battle scenarios.

Shadow

CREW: 2+8

Propulsion: Boosted Gravity Propulsion Drive

Armament: Plasma Cannon

Most flexible ground-based troop transport, capable of delivering multiple armed troops quickly and efficiently. Can hold driver, gunner, and up to 8 occupants, depending on type and relative size of infantry, but Shadow is outfitted to carry Jiralhanae, Sangheili, Unggoy, and Kig-yar.

HUMAN GROUND VEHICLES

Council: In some ways more primitive than their weaponry, Human vehicles must be taken seriously nonetheless. Usually armed, and considering their wheeled limitations, remarkably agile, Human vehicles have been designed for this precise terrain. Specifications on these vehicles were simple to find in public and encrypted datastreams. We have gleaned little that we had not already assumed.

M12 Warthog LRV

CREW: 1+1 (plus one more in rear)

Weight: 3.25 tons

Armament: 12.7mm three-barreled machine gun

Well-armed and highly maneuverable, the only Human vehicle that can match Ghost in tight quarters. Can carry 3 occupants, one of whom mans turret-mounted projectile weapon. Fires very high density of super-sonic metallic projectiles. Quite fast, can be forced into tight maneuvers using mechanical/magnetic braking system. To power-slide, pull the Left trigger for the E-brake.

M12G1 Warthog LAAV

CREW: 1+1 (plus one more in rear)

Weight: 3.5 tons

Armament: 25mm Gauss Cannon

Identical in every respect to other Human personnel transport variants, except for turret-mounted magnetic-accelerator cannon. Fires single penetrating round at very high speed. Effect on shielding and armor must be respected.

M808B Scorpion MBT

Occupancy: 1 Human or single cyborg pilot

Main gun: 90mm high-velocity shell

Secondary/coaxial gun: 7.62mm AP-T (Armor Piercing Tracer)

Heavy, slow, but nonetheless powerful, Human tank capable against ground and aerial targets. Combination of guns—large, single-projectile cannon and secondary coaxial weapon firing a rapid stream of metallic projectiles—make it primary target. Heavily armored and difficult to destroy.

Boarding

If you're close to a slow-moving or stationary vehicle, press and hold X to board that vehicle. It's possible to board from the front, rear, and side of a vehicle—and above one if you jump carefully. Boarding allows you overtake the driver, passenger, and even gunner seat of most vehicles.

SETTINGS

Use the Settings menu to customize a player profile or create a set of rules for a multiplayer game type.

Player Profiles

You can have a number of different customizable player profiles. Change a profile's name, modify the controller settings, edit the multiplayer characteristics for a profile, or delete a player profile. To create or edit a player profile, select Settings from the Main Menu, then select Player Profiles.

Changing the Control Layout

You can change the control layout for each player profile to better suit your style, including the button scheme and the speed at which you look around. A number of people choose to invert their controls. This means that when you push the Right thumbstick forward, you look down, and when you pull it back, you look up. Experiment to find which combination works best for you.

To change the control layout, select Controls from the Edit Profile screen. You can also modify your layout in a campaign or a multiplayer game by pressing START to bring up the Game Menu.

Changing the Appearance of Your Multiplayer Character

To customize the appearance of your character in multiplayer games, select Appearance from the Edit Profile menu. You can choose either a Spartan or a Covenant Elite, set primary and secondary colors, and design a custom player emblem.

Game Variants

Every type of multiplayer game has a set of rules called a variant. You can modify the rules for a game you've created by creating a custom game variant. To customize a game variant, select Settings from the Main Menu. To use a variant that you've created, go to Game Setup in the Game Lobby and select Change Rules.

MULTIPLAYER BASICS

Halo 2 multiplayer enables friends to find one another, to game together, and to move throughout the Halo 2 world as a group. You can play multiplayer games with your friends via Split Screen, System Link, and over the Xbox Live™ service.

Split Screen

With split-screen play, you can compete with up to three other players, side by side, on a single console. To start a split-screen game, select Split Screen from the Main Menu.

System Link

With system-link play, you can connect two Xbox consoles with an Xbox system-link cable, or up to 16 Xbox consoles using an Ethernet hub. For more information on how to do this, see your Xbox console Instruction Manual. To host or join a system-link game, select System Link from the Main Menu.

Xbox Live

With the Xbox Live service, you can play a multiplayer game with people from all over the world, and you can download new Halo 2 maps. To play an Xbox Live multiplayer game, select Xbox Live from the Main Menu (see pg. 24 for details).

Game Lobbies

In order to play any type of multiplayer game, you need to go through a game lobby. A game lobby is the gathering place to meet and talk to friends, start a game, or join a game.

In the Pregame Lobby you can set up a game; you also can customize your game map and options there, and start a co-op campaign in split-screen play.

When you play a system link game, go to the Available Games screen to create a new game or join an available game.

Game Types

There are seven multiplayer game types. Each game type has a number of built-in variants that create different rules for a game. The Slayer game type has a regular variation called "Slayer," "Team Slayer," "Rockets," and so forth. You also can create a custom variant for a game type to create your own rules for a game

- Slayer: Kill the most opponents.
- Capture the Flag: Score the most points by capturing the other team's flag and bringing it back to your team's base.
- Assault: Score the most points by carrying, arming, and dropping your team's bomb in the other team's base.
- King of the Hill: Control the hill for the longest time.
- Oddball: Find the ball and hold on to it for the longest time.
- Juggernaut: Only the Juggernaut can win—and if you are the Juggernaut, everyone is out to get you.
- Territories: Earn the most time by finding and controlling territories on the map.

Maps

A map is a self-contained game level designed specifically for multiplayer games. Most maps are based on variations of specific campaign levels in Halo 2. Maps come in different sizes and have different types of buildings, scenery, etc. Large maps work well when you have a lot of people. Some maps have objects with which you can interact. Press X to interact with an object. You can use any game type with any map.

Voice Proximity

When playing System Link and Xbox Live games, you can hear other players' voices. In Halo 2, the louder the players' voices, the closer they are to you on a map. When they're softer, they're farther away. Use this to help determine another player's proximity. Be careful though—nearby enemies can hear you talking as well.

If you have an Xbox Communicator, you can use voice to direct your team. You can tap the White button to engage your radio and talk to your team, no matter where they are on a map. The radio will remain open until you stop talking.

Multiplayer HUD

The multiplayer HUD adds the Multiplayer Scoreboard, which shows the score of the leading player or team above your score. If you are the leader, the score of the second-place team or player is shown underneath. It is located on the lower-right side of the the screen. Hold down the BACK button to see more extensive scores.

A Party is a temporary group of friends, or other players you've just met, who are playing an OptiMatch or a Custom Game together on the Xbox Live service. It's like being on a virtual couch with people from all over the world as you travel throughout the Halo 2 universe.

Create a Party

To create a Party, select Create Party from the Xbox Live screen, then send out your party invitations! Press Y in the Pregame Lobby to bring up your friends list, highlight the friend you want to invite, and then press A to send a Party invite. Friends who join your Party appear in the Pregame Lobby.

As the Party Leader, it's up to you where you take your Party. To see where you can take your Party, select Game Setup from the Pregame Lobby. When you move between games, you can bring your Party with you.

Note: Parties are session-based, so when everyone logs out, the Party comes to an end.

Clans

A Clan is a semi-permanent organization of Halo 2 players on the Xbox Live service. Each Clan can have up to 100 members, but you can be a member of only one Clan at a time. To create, join, or leave a Clan, press Y, and then go to the Clans tab on the Friends List.

Clan levels are based on the entire clan. Clans are organized into four roles: Overlord, Staff, Member, and Peon. A Clan must have at least one Overlord. Everyone who joins a Clan is made a Member by default.

To read more about your Clan, go to Bungie.net (see pg. 29 for details).

Individual Strategy

When you play as an individual player, it's important to manage your two different weapons correctly. Try to carry a long-range (such as a Battle Rifle) and short-range weapon (such as a Shotgun). Make sure you've always got a few grenades. Running backwards and throwing grenades is a great defensive move when another player surprises you in a map. Use dual wielding in tight spaces at short range, and vehicles when outdoors. Try boarding another player's vehicle. A successful boarding ejects the player from their seat. Move slowly by crouch-walking if you want to stay invisible on other players' motion trackers. Also, don't charge through the front door. Use a little stealth and planning.

Team Strategy

Teams that are successful are teams that coordinate—and communicate—well with each other.

- Use voice to direct your team. You can tap the White button to engage your radio and talk to your team no matter where they are on the map. Be careful though—nearby enemies can hear you talking as well.
- Manage your team's weapon selection. In Team Slayer, put someone on a Rocket and someone on a Sniper Rifle.
- Find out what your teammates are good at and let them do it. Who are the best long-range shooters? Put them on sniping duty.
- Stick to your teammates. Don't go off by yourself unless there is a tactical reason to do so. Note that there is a marker above your teammates' heads to tell you if they're on your team.
- Know what game type you're playing. Not everyone on your team can be doing the same thing. They need to take on different tactical roles. Someone needs to stay on defense in Capture the Flag (CTF)—if everyone is on offense, you won't win.

Bungie.net is the gaming center of the universe for the Halo 2 community, Halo 2 Clans, and the individual Halo 2 player. Bungie.net is the place to get the latest Halo 2 information, to interact with Bungie team, and to buy cool Halo 2 merchandise at the Bungie Store. Bungie.net is your resource to learn how to be a better Halo 2 player.

If you create a Bungie.net account, you can access the Bungie forums and see which of your Xbox Live friends are online. You can review the stats from the most recent Halo 2 games you've played on the Xbox Live service, compare stats with friends, and check your current level on the various playlists.
